Double Patenting

Specification

1. The corrected specification was received on 4/8/2004. This correction is acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 1-3 and 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by "Experience with Secure Multi-Processing in Java" by Dirk Balfanz and Li Gong. As outlined in the prior office action.

With regard to the added limitation that the applications also have their own security management policies, Balfanz discloses this added limitation (page 404 section 5.6).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 4/8/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
5. Balfanz anticipates that the applications can still set their own security managers, "Note that applications can still set their own security managers" (page 404 section 5.6).
6. The MPEP states in section 2131.05, "A reference is no less anticipatory if, after disclosing the invention, the reference then disparages it. The question whether a reference "teaches away" from the invention is inapplicable to an anticipation analysis. Celeritas Technologies Ltd. v. Rockwell International Corp., 150 F.3d 1354, 1361, 47

USPQ2d 1516, 1522-23 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (The prior art was held to anticipate the claims even though it taught away from the claimed invention. "The fact that a modem with a single carrier data signal is shown to be less than optimal does not vitiate the fact that it is disclosed.")". The question of "teaching away" is only applicable in an obviousness rejection, as stated in the MPEP section 2144.06, "A prima facie case of obviousness may also be rebutted by showing that the art, in any material respect, teaches away from the claimed invention. In re Geisler, 116 F.3d 1465, 1471, 43 USPQ2d 1362, 1366 (Fed. Cir. 1997)".

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
